Each Scholarship is valued at $1000 and includes:

- Registration and tented accommodation for the 2019 Channel Country Ladies Day weekend from 18th – 20th October 2019 at Thargomindah; including all catering and most activities over the weekend.
- Mentoring in one of three streams, including mentoring and/or workshops leading up to CCLD, and follow-up after the event.

Scholarship recipients will have the choice between one of the three streams that form the basis of the CCLD weekend: Arts, with Quilpie artist Lyn Barnes; Health & Wellbeing, with Joy McClymont, Off the Track Training; or Personal & Business Development, with Jill Rigney, The Right Mind International.

We have 10 scholarships available.

Nominations for scholarships are open to all women who reside within the Channel Country region whether you live in a small town or on a large pastoral station. The Scholarships are for women who may have suffered adversity, or may just need something like CCLD to give them a boost and will be awarded based on assessment against selection criteria detailed in Section 5 of these Guidelines.

* Where the successful nominee does not require tented accommodation at CCLD, the equivalent value will be distributed to the nominee at registration for use on the weekend.
